

HeartStrings Quilt Project

About the Project:

Established in January 2007, we're an online group of quilters who have joined together to make and donate String quilts to local charitable organizations.

We support each other with encouragement and inspiration as we work on our own string quilt projects and we contribute to group quilts through donating blocks, assembling and quilting tops.

How you can help:

We accept string blocks made according to a set of guidelines that will be assembled into group quilts and donated. You can make one block or a hundred, we'll accept as many as you wish to contribute. You can also piece and quilt your own top and donate it to a local charity.

We accept string blocks that have been assembled into a top. We will complete the quilt and donate to a charitable organization.

You can work with a local group to make and donate string quilts to a charitable organization in your area. We will be tracking project activities so please email us photos of finished quilts and tell us where you donated them.

More Information:

Although not required, you can join our Yahoo group and interact with other HeartStrings quilters.

<http://groups.yahoo.com/group/HeartStringsQuiltProject/>

You can find information about the project, block guidelines, and our online photo albums at our website.

<http://heartstringsquiltproject.com/>